

On February 17, 2009, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) was passed by Congress and signed into law by President Obama. ARRA provides increased support to several existing federal programs administered by states, creates new programs such as the State Fiscal Stabilization Fund, and offers opportunities for states to apply for competitive grant programs.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act's significant investment in North Carolina totaled almost $19.5 billion, including assistance for those needing help the most through increases in unemployment benefits, Medicaid payments, and food stamps. In addition to those expanded services, ARRA gives hundreds of thousands of working North Carolinians a break through tax credits like the Making Work Pay tax credit and the First Time Homebuyer's tax credit.

The Recovery Act is not like earlier attempts to revive the nation's economy. It is not only a one-time infusion of federal funds; instead it is a long-term effort to restore economic expansion in the short-term, as well as prepare the nation's economy for stable, healthy long-term growth. Under the terms of the Recovery Act, support for North Carolina's economy will include both investments made directly by the federal government and investments of federal funds that are made under the oversight of the North Carolina state government.

Education

The Recovery Act placed a special emphasis on maintaining education funding. Governor Beverly Perdue furthered this commitment by pledging additional recovery funds from the Recovery Act to education, and leading North Carolina to additional funds by winning $400 million in the Race to the Top program.

Most of the ARRA education funds are distributed to local schools through existing funding formulas. Special Education Funds and Title I funds go to schools based on eligible student enrollment. State Fiscal Stabilization Funds (SFSF) and the EduJobs grants were designed to hold schools harmless during the recession, and were distributed to public and charter schools. The school systems have spent the majority of the funds on staff and support. Some projects, such as Race to the Top, will be spent for purchasing products and services rather than salaries for staff.

Authorization for low/no interest bonds for school construction/renovation followed the Department of Public Instruction procedures with initial allotments to the school systems. If a school system could not utilize their allotment, it was released to other school systems that could utilize additional allotments.

Forsyth County schools received $131.1 million in education funding, including $12.2 million in Special Education funds, $13.4 million in Title I funds, $43.9 million in SFSF funds, $14.2 million in Race to the Top funding and a $26.4 million bond allocation.

Pell Grants are an educational Assistance Program that provides grants to eligible students to receive post-secondary or vocational training. Because Pell Grants are not student loans, they allow students to receive financial assistance to further education and training without incurring additional debt. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act increased the eligibility and the maximum amount of Pell Grants in 2009 and 2010 as a way to encourage educational opportunities, and to provide a way for eligible applicants to gain new job skills.

Forsyth County institutions had 9,382 students funded by Pell Grants; these grants were worth more than $16 million.

Family Assistance

The Federal Department of Agriculture increased funding to their Single-Family home program with the ARRA. These resources assisted families in achieving the American Dream of home ownership through direct financial assistance (grants) or credit (loan guarantees). This program pumped more than $729 million into North Carolina, providing assistance to more than 5,400 families.

In Forsyth County, 79 families received assistance through this program totaling more than $9.7 million.

The Department of Energy created the Energy Star Appliance rebate program to help stimulate the economy by incentivizing the purchase of new, more energy efficient appliances, and helping consumers by providing long-term savings from their utility bills. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce managed the program insuring North Carolina residents and retailers received the maximum benefit from this opportunity. North Carolina retailers sold more than 25,500 new energy efficiency appliances through this program, and North Carolina residents will enjoy energy savings for years to come. The program was so successful, that the State Energy Office reprogrammed additional funding to provide discounts to everyone participating in the program, bringing the total program value from $8 up to $10 Million.

Forsyth County retailers sold 922 appliances through the Energy Star Appliance rebate program.

Small Business Assistance

The ARRA provided tax breaks, increased depreciation of business assets, and incentives for hiring for small businesses through the tax law changes found in Part B of the Act. The Recovery Act also established direct aid programs through the federal Small Business Administration (SBA) and US Department of Agriculture (USDA). These programs provided grants, loans and loan guarantees to grant small businesses access to much-needed operational credit during 2009 and 2010.

In Forsyth County 57 small businesses received SBA loan guarantees worth almost $13.2 million. According to the small businesses receiving these loans, the Recovery Act saved or created 527 jobs.

Farm Assistance

The Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments (SURE) Program is administered by the Farm Services Administration in the federal Department of Agriculture, which provides assistance to farmers suffering crop losses due to natural disasters. To qualify for the program a farm must have lost at least 10% of one crop during a natural disaster in a declared disaster county, or lost 50% of a crop during a disaster in a non-disaster county. North Carolina farmers received more than $9 million in total payments under the ARRA-Funded SURE Program.

In Forsyth County, $39,302 was received in assistance to farmers because of crop loss to natural disasters.

CARS Program

The Car Allowance Rebate Program (CARS), more widely known as the 'Cash-for-Clunkers' program, provided an incentive for drivers of older, energy inefficient vehicles to upgrade to new cars. This program also provided a large economic impact in North Carolina, and North Carolina dealers received more than 18,000 trade-in vehicles through this program. North Carolina Car Dealers sold more than $400,000,000 worth of new cars (recommended MSRP) through the CARS program. North Carolina drivers will save 172,130 miles per gallon through cars purchased through this program.

In Forsyth County, car dealers sold 1,350 cars worth more than $29.5 million through the ARRA CARS program.

Justice and Public Safety Programs

ARRA increased funding to the federal Byrne Justice Assistance Grants Program (JAG). JAG funds were awarded both as a formula allocation to the State, for $34.5 million, and grants distributed by the Governor's Crime Commission to various local governments and entities. In addition, $21,853,798 went to 216 local governments across the state for various purposes in line with the requirements of the act. Finally, there is a federal competitive portion that was open to state or local government applicants.

In Forsyth County, over $1.3 million was received in JAG funds.

The COPS (Community Oriented Policing Services) awards grants to law enforcement agencies to hire and train community policing professionals, acquire and deploy cutting-edge crime-fighting technologies, and develop and test innovative policing strategies. COPS funding also provides training and technical assistance to community members and local government leaders and all levels of law. In order to help leverage the efficiency of these programs Governor Perdue set aside additional funding to help pay for uniforms and equipment for local governments who have new COPS funded positions.

In Forsyth County, the City of Winston Salem had 25 officers were funded through COPS Grants. These grants were worth more than $3.8 million.

Broadband Programs

The Recovery Act funded two dedicated high-speed broadband programs, the USDA's Broadband Initiatives Program (BIP), and the US Department of Commerce's Broadband Technology Opportunities Program (BTOP). The BIP focused on the creation of new service or the expansion of existing services in rural areas, while the BTOP focused on statewide or regional development of important broadband infrastructure.

In Forsyth County, WinstonNet, a public computer center program in Winston-Salem, received a BTOP grant for $926,537.

Environment and Natural Resources Programs

ARRA funded several programs to protect the environment, or to develop natural resources more efficiently. These programs ranged from environmental clean-up, such as leaking underground storage tank abatement and Brownfields programs, to EPA clean air grants, wildfire prevention grants, and revolving funds to build, expand, or overhaul existing water and sewer programs. These programs provided nearly $150 million across North Carolina.

In Forsyth County, X water and sewer grant were awarded, for more than $X million.

Green Energy Programs

One of the goals of ARRA was to provide grants to help conserve energy and assist in the development of a green economy. The State Energy Office in the North Carolina Department of Commerce received large grants for energy conservation under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. These grants include the Energy Efficiency Conservation Block Grant (EECBG), funded at just under $20 million, and the State Energy Plan (SEP), funded at $70 million. The State Energy Office then used these grants to make awards to businesses, non-profits, and local governments for various purposes.

In Forsyth County, the City of Kernersville received an SEP grant of $497,869 to improve heating and cooling systems, improve lighting and water consumption efficiency.

Safety Net Programs

Safety net programs are the category of ARRA funding that consists of programs designed to help populations made particularly vulnerable by the economic crisis. These generally include increases in existing programs, most notably the increase in both benefit level and duration of unemployment payments. Increases in the amount and duration of unemployment payments makes up the largest chunk of safety net programs funded through the Recovery Act, totaling more than $3.5 billion statewide over more than two years. Safety net programs such as unemployment insurance and SNAP (formerly known as Food Stamps), not only benefit the recipient, but have a proven economic impact on a community.

Forsyth County residents received more than $118.4 million in Unemployment Insurance increases during the 2 ½ year ARRA benefits increase. County residents also received $18.7 million in SNAP benefit increases, and $15.1 million in one-time payments of $250 to social security recipients.

Forsyth County received more than $259,000 for Head Start Programs.

Forsyth County Feature Story

WinstonNet helps bridge the digital divide with Recovery Funding

One of the important factors of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act was to promote the development and adoption of technological that will be the foundation for a 21st Century economy. By investing in broadband programs, the ARRA is laying the groundwork for sustainable economic growth, well-paying jobs, and global competitiveness. These investments in the future will create a platform for innovation and entrepreneurship across all sectors of the economy and address many of the state's priorities including health care, education, small business, and public safety.

More than $7 billion was available nationally in ARRA broadband funding through two grant-making programs: the NTIA's Broadband Technology Opportunities Program (BTOP), and the USDA's Broadband Initiatives Program (BIP). North Carolina is a national leader in broadband, ranking fourth nationally in the award of ARRA broadband projects with more than $280 million in projects. 81 North Carolina counties will receive funding or be traversed by a BIP or BTOP program. These programs include projects that support primary and higher education, public safety, economic development, serve vulnerable populations and to provide direct broadband services to consumers.

WinstonNet, Inc. is a non-profit community technology initiative established in 2001 with the goal of "bridging the digital divide" that currently exists in the Winston-Salem and Forsyth County, as a collaboration between city and county governments, Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem State University, Salem College/Academy, North Carolina School of the Arts, Forsyth Technical Community College, the Winston-Salem public school system, and the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce. The program operates over 40 public computer labs integrated with a nationally recognized training program located in mostly underserved areas.

Despite running a successful operation for almost 10 years, in 2009 WinstonNet was struggling to meet increased demand and enable residents to access current online applications with outdated equipment, most of which was refurbished computers donated by the community. With the advent of the BTOP Public Computer Center program, WinstonNet applied for, and was awarded $926,000 in ARRA-funded grants.

The Recovery grant will allow WinstonNet to implement its Enhanced Community Computer Centers project. The program will fund the acquisition of 369 new computers to replace outdated equipment at the 38 free computer labs at city recreation centers, county libraries, churches, shelters and facilities for the disadvantaged. A Recovery funding and a partnership with Forsyth Technical Community College will add four new computer labs in the city and county, replace two of its existing labs, and equip the six labs with 111 computers. Forsyth Tech will set aside a portion of each lab's time for public use. The project plans to offer health information, community outreach services, and training to youth and, unemployed minority populations, senior citizens, people with disabilities, and Native Americans, with the expansion of special equipment and software for the physically disadvantaged and an increase in the availability of free computer instruction. The creation of one new full-time position, four new part-time positions, and the preservation of two full-time positions, will allow WinstonNet to serve approximately 1,500 new lab users weekly and provide computer training classes in Spanish to approximately 160 new participants each month. The ultimate goal of the program is to train as many as 3,500 residents with approximately 10,500 hours of teacher-led training. Training will focus on computer skills, ESL language courses (particularly targeting the area's growing Hispanic population), and jobs training.
